EARLY HISTORY OF THE FORT WORTH RETIRED SCHOOL EMPLOYEES ASSOCIATION

On February 15, 1950, at 2:30 p.m., a meeting of the Fort Worth Retired Teachers Association (FWRTA) was called to order by Cora Lee Glenn, who had retired from the Peter Smith Elementary School of the Fort Worth School District in 1935. She read letters from the Dallas Group and Senator Tom Connally giving reasons why the FWRTA should become a permanent organization. Miss Glenn was elected temporary chairman and J.G. Pace, secretary. A committee composed of J.F. Tarlton, Mamie Brightwell, Dora McKibben, Alva Lohead and W.M. Moore was appointed to draft a constitution and bylaws, which were adopted February 21, 1950, with sixty-one charter members. On March 1, 1950, the following officers were elected: President Cora Lee Glenn, Vice President J.F. Tarlton, Secretary I.K. Cummings, Treasurer J. G. Pace, and Parliamentarian Sadie Dawson.

In May of 1950, the organization was called the Association of Retired Teachers; and, by July 15, 1950, had become the Association of Retired Teachers of Fort Worth and Tarrant County. During that time, they contacted legislators for support on H.R. 6000, a bill that Representative Lyndon Johnson had supported and voted for. By July, President Glenn moved to California, and J.F. Tarlton became President. At that time the Hospitalization Plan cost only $1.90 per month.

In January 1951, new officers were elected: President Lee M. Hammond, Vice President Mary Morrison, and Secretary Della Park, while J.G. Pace and Sadie Dawson continued as Treasurer and Parliamentarian. At the October 9, 1951 meeting, members held a lengthy discussion concerning the possibility of joining other retired teacher organizations to form a state organization. Ella J. Smith was appointed to communicate with other retired teacher groups. She reported that the associations contacted favored the plan. On January 9, 1952, a motion to join the National Retired Teachers Organization was adopted at a cost of $30 for 25 members. Local dues were $1.

At the March 11, 1952 meeting, a letter from the San Antonio Retired Teachers asked the Fort Worth group to join with them in getting a state association organized.

The Fort Worth Retired Teachers Association was formally incorporated under President Mayhew Mantor on February 15, 1967. The name was changed to the Fort Worth Retired School Employees Association on September 21, 1988, when Dr. Ruth Cameron Amend was President.
